About Summer Day Camp at Today's Family

"It is not only about where we go...it is also, what we do when we get there."

At Today's Family, we believe in the joy of play as a powerful tool for fostering connection, curiosity, and growth. Through outdoor exploration, children engage with the world around them, learning by doing, imagining, and discovering. We embrace the idea that nature is the ultimate playground, where every rock, tree, and creature invites moments of creativity, problem-solving, and teamwork. In this environment, play becomes a pathway to understanding, allowing children to build lasting connections with the land and each other.

Our programs, offered year-round throughout the neighbourhoods we serve, are guided by emergent curriculum and rooted in the principles of the "How Does Learning Happen?" pedagogy. This approach emphasizes that learning is most effective when it is play-based, child-centered, and fosters deep engagement. By prioritizing meaningful play, we ensure that children experience expression, belonging, and well-being—key elements that support their growth and development. Our camp programs offer opportunities for children to make new friends, explore their communities, and have fun while learning through their natural curiosity and creativity. Throughout the summer, programming will be visible through documentation and journaling, allowing children to reflect on their experiences and showcase their learning journey. Through this approach, we create a positive, engaging, and impactful learning experience for every child.

Collaborative Creativity

Artasia is a community-wide program that brings together children of all ages across various locations to explore the transformative power of the arts. Artist educators will be joining the program, guiding participants in art education, civic engagement, environmentalism, innovation, and storytelling. Artasia reaches over 500 young people each summer, with their work showcased in a collaborative exhibition that tours the region. Designed to foster creativity and development, the program encourages collaboration across generations, bringing together children, secondary students, emerging artists, and professionals to address community challenges and unlock the potential for positive change.

Are healthy snacks provided?

Today's Family provides healthy snacks made with whole ingredients in accordance with the Canada Food Guide. Menus are posted within program rooms and copies are also available to parents and families. Please be sure to alert us of any allergies or food restrictions. If possible, we will try to provide an alternative. Please bring a nut-free lunch and refillable water bottle every day.

Can families volunteer during the summer?

If you are interested in volunteering on a field trip, please contact your Program Supervisor. Only staff of Today's Family will have the direct responsibility for the supervision of children in the camp programs. Please note: Volunteers and students are not considered part of the staff / caregiver to child ratio.

What are the program hours?

Today's Family Summer Camp Programs operate from 7:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. Monday to Friday. We are closed on statutory holidays.

Frequently asked questions

What occurs during extreme weather events?

To ensure the health and safety of all, camp staff will modify activities to accommodate for weather. Weather permitting, children will have time outdoors every day. Today's Family adheres with extreme heat/weather procedures outlined by local municipalities, any impact to scheduled programs or operations will be communicated with families.

What happens during a serious occurrence?

Safety of children is our top priority. A serious occurrence is an incident that poses a significant risk to a child's health, safety, or well-being. To learn more about site-specific procedures to ensure child safety, please contact your Program Supervisor.

Serious occurrences that happen in your child's Camp Program will be posted at the program location for your information.

What should my camper bring to camp each day?

- A nut-free lunch labelled with your child's name
- Weather appropriate outdoor clothing
- Refillable water bottle labelled with your child's name
- Swimsuit and towel
- Change of clothes
- Sunscreen
- Comfortable, closed-toed shoes
- Hat

Each week campers will have an opportunity to visit recreation centre pools or splash pads, please pack a swimsuit, towel, sunscreen, and a water bottle daily.

To keep camp focused on play, we ask that valuables, including electronics, stay home to prevent loss or damage and encourage engagement.

If a personal item is needed, please inform us in advance and we will attempt to make accommodations. Families are encouraged to stay connected through the educators, the supervisor's office, or the Family Fridge App for communication.
